

Newsletter

Fall - 2022

Remember Authors

There are a few women authors I have enjoyed reading over the years that have since passed on. They were not part of the website generation and I thought they should be remembered. I created these remembrance websites and keep them updated every year so that new readers can find them and their fans can remember them.

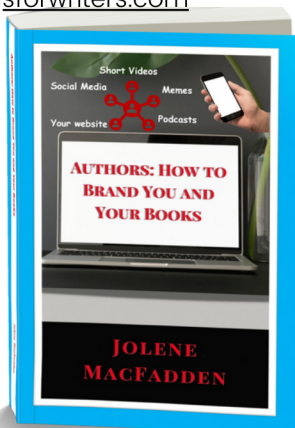

- <https://barbarcomfort.websandblogsforwriters.com>

Newest Book

The latest published non-fiction book is "Authors - How to Brand you and your books. It is available in paperback, hardback, eBook and even audio. Get your copy today!

<https://books2read.com/AuthorsBrandYouAndYourBooks>

What are you reading?

I try to read at least one fiction book every month. With my busy schedule I do not always get that done. This quarter however I wanted to share "Ghoulish Midlife" written by Lia Davis and L.A. Boruff. Fun series about a middle-aged mother and witch who just found out about her necromancing powers.

<https://youtube.com/shorts/vVZn6vE5L6g?feature=share>